

Call for Video

MobiSys 2013
The Eleventh International Conference on
Mobile Systems, Applications and Services

June 25 - 28, 2013
Taipei, Taiwan

For the first time this year, MobiSys will host a Video Program format. We want to bring this new dimension to MobiSys by inviting researchers to show off their creativity through the submission of videos of their research. The video should be presenting a working demo and be no longer than 5 minutes. Selected videos will be invited for short presentations in the final technical program alongside paper presentations with one or two videos per session. The presenter of the video will have 5 minutes between two paper presentations to introduce the idea, play the video, and take a few questions at the end. The video should be illustrating technically sound innovative research on the design, implementation, usage, and evaluation of mobile computing and wireless systems, applications, and services.

Videos will be selected according to two main criteria: content (Is the material relevant to the MobiSys community? Is the idea novel?) and presentation (Is the video well done? Does it engage the audience through creative editing?)

Accepted videos will be included into the MobiSys 2013 Eproceedings and the ACM DL. They'll be also linked from the MobiSys 2013 website.

Best Video Award:

All videos will be considered for the Best Video Award. The winner will be selected at the conference, considering both the video and the presentation. The winner will receive a plaque and a cash award.

Submission rules:

- The maximum video duration must be 5 minutes;
- The video should be uploaded on YouTube and a link to the video should be sent to the Video Program chairs via email (miluzzo AT research.att.com and padhye AT microsoft.com) with the following subject line: [MobiSys'13 - Video Program Submission]

Important dates:

- Submission deadline: March 29, 2013
- Notification deadline: April 5, 2013